Tony Elvin –

The only man who can pair a fine vintage with a bad pun and make both go down smoothly.

As the charming ringmaster of The Wine Events Company, Tony has made a career out of convincing people that drinking wine in cinemas, castles, and cathedrals is both classy and educational (spoiler: it is).

Tony brings expert knowledge, infectious enthusiasm, and just the right amount of mischief to every event.

Now, teaming up with culinary legend Richard Turner for a wine dinner like no other, Tony's ready to bring the flavour, the fun, and probably a few questionable wine puns.

Cheers!
